

Happy Homestead Llamas Llama Rental Training Checklist

- o A complete and perfect understanding of how the llamas will be used, where the llamas will be used, how long they will be used, and what condition they and the gear will be returned in is completely understood by Happy Homestead Llamas and the client.
- o The client has a good understanding of the demeanor and attitude of the llamas, how they react in general situations, how the llamas prefer to be handled, treated, and packed is completely understood between Happy Homestead Llamas and the client.
- o The client has a complete understanding of how to lead the llama, including stringing multiple llamas together. The client understands all the buckles, latches, releases, and harnesses used with the llamas.
- o The client has a complete knowledge and understanding of how to:
  - o Approach and address the llama
  - o Clean, brush, and comb the llama
  - o Place the blanket and saddle on the llama
  - o Secure, tighten, and function every strap and buckle on the saddle of the llama
  - o Efficiently and properly pack the panniers with no more than 35 pounds per side
  - o Safely and properly secure the panniers to each side of the llama saddle
  - o Double check each buckle, strap, the saddle, panniers, and general condition of how the saddle is positioned on the llama before packing
- o The client completely understands how to tie off the llama when not packing.
- o The client completely understands how to stake out the llama when not packing (how to choose a proper location with sufficient feed and lack of obstructive objects).
- o The client completely understands how to expect a llama to react in common packing situations such as crossing a stream, crossing over fallen logs, navigating around outcroppings, dead trees, boulders, and other stationary objects.
- o The client completely understands how to expect a llama to react in common encounters with other trail animals such as bears, buffalo, wild animals, horses, dogs, mules, goats, and other pack animals.
- o The client has expressed complete confidence in their ability to use the llamas exactly how they are intended to be used, to pack their gear properly and safely, with no expectation of any problem that will result in a liability claim against Happy Homestead Llamas or its owners for any reason.

Client Name: _____

Date _____

Signed: _____

Signed: _____

Happy Homestead Llamas Representative

Date _____